Dear Parents/Carers,

I am writing to you with information regarding an online tutoring company, Up Learn, who offer a range of digital tutorials, assessments and exam materials for A Level Economics. Having used Up Learn with our Year 13 cohort, and seen the significant impact on student progress, we are looking to implement their resources for our current Year 12 Economics group. These resources can supplement the learning and revision that we cover during lessons and can also be used for wider reading and consolidation of knowledge outside of the classroom. Up Learn have sent the following information explaining how their service works:

“With Up Learn, there’s a simpler, more effective way to prepare your students for exams; exquisite video instruction, embedded questioning and exam preparation, all in one place. We use leading instructional theory, dual coding and desirable difficulties to reduce cognitive load, orient focus and tackle the forgetting curve. The result? 97% of students who completed an Up Learn course in the last two years achieved A-A.”*

- Comprehensive course structure - the whole A Level course broken down into individual sections. Help students overcome anxiety with all the content in one place
- In-depth exam preparation - whole sections dedicated to helping students master their exams. Exam technique, walk-throughs and exclusive examiner-written papers
- AI adaptive algorithms identify students’ strengths and weaknesses, iterating until they score 100%
- Student tracking tools - our online dashboard gives you instant access to student progress. Perfect for conversations with students, parents and leaders
- 24/7 live chat support with subject-specialists
- An Up Learn course takes ~160 hours to complete. A*-A money-back guarantee upon course completion

Pricing

- Y13s access to Up Learn for £84 per student until exams 2022
- Free teacher accounts with access to a data dashboard
- Up Learn offers a 1-1 scholarship initiative - we give the reciprocal number of free licences to FSM students for every licence purchased

Up Learn offers a free demonstration. You can also visit their website.

The price we have been offered is heavily discounted and the school would offer a further £10 contribution if this is something that you would be interested in. This would mean the total cost of Up Learn would be £74 for each student.

Obviously, all course content is taught and tested by our Economics team and students will be thoroughly prepared for the qualification without this extra resource. The Y13 cohort this year found that it supported their independent study and gave them more opportunities to practise applying their knowledge and skills, but it is not a necessity for students taking A Level Economics.

Please complete the Google Form below to register your interest. If we have enough uptake, I will begin the process of registration.
